After All

After all the things we've been through together
You'd think I would know you by now
But I prove my ignorance time and again
More than one life should allow

But even through the darkness I feel you
Trying so hard not to fall
And I realize how deeply I need you
After all

There's a light that shines within you so brightly
A fire that burns in your eyes
And I'd wrap my arms around you forever
If only I'd keep it alive

'Cause even through the darkness I see you
Trying so hard not to fall
And I realize how deeply I need you
After all

What have I learned from all this
So as not to make the same mistakes again
Not again
When will I earn forgiveness
And how can I continue till then
Till then

'Cause even through the darkness I feel you
Trying to hard to believe
And I realize you're the only one for me
After all
